Monday, January 11

11:30am-1:30pm

While the core reasons that ASABE members attend the Agricultural Equipment Technology Conference (AETC) include technical sessions, continued professional development seminars, and committee meetings, there are also a lot of opportunities for members to build their career and network. ASABE's AETC will bring together members looking for career opportunities and employers looking to hire. AETC's 2-hour Job Fair is scheduled for Monday, January 11. Many corporations, businesses, universities and colleges, organization and governmental departments will be looking to receive resumes, recruit new employees, talk with qualified candidates, provide information on specific opportunities and even conduct interviews.

ASABE will honor the early bird registration prices for participants of the job fair until December 11, 2009. To participate, complete and submit a Job Fair Reservation Form below. More details will be provided once we have received notification of your intent to participate; there is no fee, other than registration, required for participation.
