2010 AE50 PRESENTATIONS

Monday, January 11 - 5:15PM

The new AE50 winners for 2010 will be announced for the first time at AETC. Be sure to attend the Monday event at 5:15PM at the Orange County Convention Center and plan to stay for the reception that follows to congratulate the winners. You'll want to be among the first to see which innovative new products brought to market during 2009 captured the judge's attention. With a record number of submissions this fall, the judges had a difficult task selecting the winners. During the event the products will be displayed on screen, and highlights of the innovations will be featured. The reception that immediately follows is a great chance to network and connect with others who share your interests.
